NCCA POLICY

Dues are $6.00 per year for adults and $4.00 per year for juniors under 18. Membership is open to all, but only NC residents can vote and hold office. Each member is entitled to play in NCCA-sponsored and will receive "The Carolina Gambit," published six times per year. Games, articles, tournament reports, and other materials for the "Gambit" are welcome and necessary. All tournament reports, membership renewals, and address corrections should be sent to the President and all other materials for publication to the Editor.

NCCA BUSINESS MEETING

The annual NCCA business meeting was held September 9, 1983, at 9:30 a.m. at the Holiday Inn Carowinds outside Charlotte, before the third round of the North Carolina State Championship tournament. President Robert Singletary welcomed the 77 persons in attendance. In his opening remarks he noted that the NCCA had grown to 410 members and that the 1983 LPO and the 1983 Scholastics were the largest tournaments in state history.

The following persons were awarded certificates of commendation for service to the NCCA in the past year: Al Lipkin, Patsy Spurrier, Leland Fuerstman, Steven Greenlee, Allen Cooley, Mark Becker, Louis Cobb, Stephane Simpson, Donald Miller, David O'Bryant, and Joe Stegall.

President Singletary announced that the NCCA had finally achieved not-for-profit status after a lengthy and involved legal process. Some discussion centered on whether the legal fees ($500) were excessive. It was noted that filing for not-for-profit status is not a simple procedure and that the fees were not inconsistent with prevailing rates.

The Secretary/Treasurer's report was read: the treasury contained approximately $1000, down $350 from the previous meeting. Membership had increased by 18% to 410.

Gambit editor Charles Alden noted that more materials, particularly game scores or positions from games by members, would be welcome and necessary submissions. Some discussion centered on whether the Gambit was a useful or worthwhile part of the NCCA. Comments from the audience pointed out that the Gambit is a constitutional requirement of the NCCA and the only record and archive of chess history of the state. Greg Samsa observed that the amount of labor involved simply to produce and address the journal was considerable. A non-binding straw poll was taken to sense if the opinion of the audience was that the editor should receive monetary compensation even if an increase in dues was required. The vote was 53 to 6 in favor of the idea in principle; the matter was referred to the Executive Committee for study. Editor Alden then commented that he would prefer to serve on a voluntary basis in any event; he also noted that the typography of the Gambit compared favorably with that of the newsletter of the North Carolina Society for Technical Communications, which charges a membership fee ten times the NCCA dues.

A letter from David O'Bryant concerning the tournament clearinghouse was summarized. President Singletary noted the matter was out of the jurisdiction of the NCCA but agreed to draft a letter requesting that North and South Carolina be combined into one clearinghouse under Marion Mahaffey.

A motion by Robert Singletary to eliminate the junior portion of the Grand Prix was defeated by a vote of 43 to 8. The meeting was adjourned at 10:20 a.m.

TENTH LPO DRAWS RECORD TURNOUT

Lured by a record $10,000 prize fund, 341 players from eleven states participated in the Tenth Annual Lawrence Pfeifferkorn Open held July 30 and 31 at the Hilton Inn in Winston-Salem. A third record was set when the air conditioning failed in the main playing room and the temperature soared to 106. Nonetheless, six players kept their cool and posted perfect scores, led by Boris Belopolsky of Allston, MA, who captured the $1000 first prize in the Open section. He was followed by Richard Delaune (VA), Curt Jones (TN) and Gregory Acholonu (MD) who tied for second with 4½-½.

John Brooks of Siler City and Gary Weeks from Arkansas posted 5-0 scores to top the Amateur section, ahead of Patrick Radcliff of West Virginia with 4½. In the Novice section three players scored five wins: Arlee Vincent (VA), Tomasz Kosinski (NY), and Alexander Keyes (Durham), with Vincent taking first prize and Kosinski and Keyes splitting the unrated prize.

The tournament was organized for the tenth year in a row by Dr. Al Lipkin, with assistance from his daughter, Lori. The tournament was capably directed by Harry Sabine, Thad Rogers, John White, and Robert Singletary. Below are listed all the prizewinners, and the complete crosstables are presented on the next six pages.

Kolvick, Alden N.C. Champs

IM BORIS KOGAN TOPS STRONG NC CHAMPIONSHIP

International Master Boris Kogan of Atlanta powered past a strong field of 124 players from seven states to win the 32nd annual North Carolina Championship, held Labor Day weekend at the Holiday Inn Carowinds near Charlotte. Kogan's score of $5\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ earned the top prize of \$1000. Tied for second place at $4\frac{1}{2}$ - $1\frac{1}{2}$ were Klaus Pohl (SC), Randy Kolvick (Charlotte), Charles Alden (Durham), Steve Greanias (VA) and Mike Lucas (GA). Kolvick and Alden were named North Carolina co-champions, with Kolvick receiving the David Stern Memorial trophy on tiebreaks. Rhodes Peele of Pembroke posted a strong showing, with several of his games on the top boards, to finish as top player under 2000 in the Open section.

In addition to the Open tournament, five other tournaments were held at the same time. In the category I tournament Allen Cooley of Winston-Salem posted a perfect 6-0 to outdistance Paul Hargett with $4\frac{1}{2}$. The category II tournament finished in a three-way tie between Jim Dutton (Charlotte), George Melton (Laurinberg) and Charles Watson (Rural Hall). Thomas Powell (Charlotte) and Greg Hall (Salisbury) tied for the top under-1700 prize.

A remarkable resurrection occurred in the category III section. Billy Gentry of Raleigh, who went 0-5 in the LPO, decided to get serious and swept to a 6-0 victory. James Albin of Kannapolis was second with 5. In category IV David Meador of Southern Pines scored 5-1 to finish ahead of Wayne Stuart of Chapel Hill with $4\frac{1}{2}$. Donalds Miller of Morehead City was the top 1200 player, also with $4\frac{1}{2}$. In category V Donaly Stehley placed first with 5-1, and Shari Amato of Silver Spring MD was second with $4\frac{1}{2}$.

The prize fund of $5,000 was a record for the NC Championship. The tournament was sponsored by the Charlotte Chess Club in conjunction with the NCCA and was organized and directed by Leland Fuerstman and Robert Singletary. Below are listed the prize winners and the complete crosstable appears on the next three pages.

LATE FLASH -- CANDIDATES MATCHES BEGIN IN LONDON

As we go to press we learn that the "canceled" Candidates matches between Victor Korchnoi and Gary Kasparov, originally slated for Pasadena, and between Vassily Smyslov and Zoltan Ribli, moved from Abu Dhabi, have begun in London in late November. Korchnoi defeated Kasparov in game 1 of their match, game 2 was drawn. Smyslov defeated Ribli after 65 moves in game 1 of their match.

FROM THE EDITOR

This issue of the Gambit comes to you about two months behind schedule with the apologies of the editor, for reasons noted below. You will notice that the bulk of this issue is devoted to crosstables and lists, with a minimum of "chessic" material. The purposes of the Gambit are three-fold: to serve as an archive of chess history in North Carolina, to inform players of chess activity in the state, and to provide chess instruction and entertainment by presenting games and positions. This issue, catching up on tournament results from the past half year, fits the first category. Another issue, to be printed next month by Robert Singletary, will treat the second category, providing information especially on the upcoming NC Scholastics and the U.S. Junior Open to be held in Raleigh. In January we will finally come to the topic closest to your editor's and your own heart, chess itself, with a gala collection of games both good and awful that have come from the hands (if not always from the minds) of North Carolina players.

Regardless of the content of the journal, we also must address the discontent of the readers. Many of you may have wondered what had happened to the Gambit and why. The short answer is that your editor assumed a new job three months ago and then sadly discovered that it actually involved (shudder) work; even worse, he no longer had access to word processing equipment and so had to use a standard typewriter, which can be somewhat time-consuming, particularly for tabular material. Again, to those of you with legitimate concerns, sincere apologies.

However, I cannot leave this discussion without addressing those who have gone beyond concern to anger, much of it directed incorrectly at the NCCA president. We all know that some people are never satisfied and that some seek to raise themselves by diminishing others. More significantly, as chessplayers we know that many of us find in chess more than art, but also a means for expressing or sublimating hostilities; thus anyone involved in any level of chess organization learns to accept with amusement the antics of the more contentious set of players. A case in point occurred at the NCCA business meeting in September, when one player rose to loudly announce that he had seen one issue of the Gambit, didn't learn anything from the games, pronounced the journal a rag, and moved it be discontinued. (If chess is any measure of other skills, we will note that this player went on to set some sort of state tournament record, losing four straight games in three different sections before withdrawing.)

Our unnamed critic did unwittingly serve a useful purpose, to start a discussion about the effort involved in producing a journal, which is considerable. Your editor has volunteered to help produce this journal not out of any delusion that he will be loved for it, but rather in memory of other anonymous players and scribblers who helped nurture his own career as a player decades ago. Thus I decline the notion that the editor should receive a stipend for this task: the amount involved would likely be less than a dollar an hour, and the integrity of the editor could be compromised by anyone wishing to treat him as an employee.

To those of you sincere about producing the Gambit faster and with materials to submit, I suggest the following: type your submission as perfectly as possible and mail it unfolded in a large envelope; we can attempt photocopying such submissions directly onto the layout sheet without resetting.
